

Art - Monday

Today is going to be a bit of a recap on what we learnt in art last half term.

As part of our theme last term, we looked at the colour wheel and contrasting colours.

Today, I would like you to create your own colour wheel out of things you have found around the house and garden.

I would love to see some pictures so feel free to send them across.

Happy colour hunting 😊

