

What was stone age life like?

This week we would like you to think about and research what stone age people ate and the animals they would have encountered.

What did they eat?

For this section we would like you to find out:

- The food that stone age people ate.
- How they acquired (got) their food?
- Did the way they acquired their food change? Why?
- If they only used animals for food.

You could design a menu for a stone age restaurant.

Stone age animals

For this section we would like you to find out:

- The animals that stone age man would have encountered (come across) in Britain.
- Do we have any of these animals in Britain today? If not, why?
- What habitats were these creatures suited to.
- Include some pictures or drawings- you could use the ones from your art lessons.

Please use the following links to support your research.

click here to find out a little more about how stone age man lived.

Click here for a range of resources and videos about the food and animals.

click here for the animals that roamed Britain- you might need a grown up to help you as it's quite a long read but has lots of information.

Click here :This is a teaching video so it does have some activities you can do them if you want to but you don't have to it is also an informative video about the animals.

You could write your facts in some of these frames so they look nice for your double page spread or design your own.
