

Go on another walk – think of all the sounds that the different places made – grass makes the swishy noise, a river makes the splish splash noise, the mud made the squelchy noise, the forest made the snapping noise and the snow storm made the woosh noise. You can make up your own sounds and practise them on your walk!